

Introduction to evaluation and telling your story of change

Introduction to Evaluation

Tuesday 18 April, 14.00 – 16.00

Evaluation...

A process of exploring/understanding...

- how a project, performance, event or activity is working/has worked
- what difference it has made for who – what's changed for those involved
- how and why...

... for practical purposes – e.g. sharing learning, making decisions, evidencing impact, applying for funding.

OUTPUT

Outputs: The tangible things that happen as a result of your project or organisation's work.

Easier to see and count but not always meaningful: Sessions, events, group sizes, attendance, audience sizes.

ST

What difference did we make? What's changed for those involved?

What made this possible?

Outcomes: the changes, benefits, learning or other effects that happen as a result of a project or organisation's work. Outcomes can be positive or negative, expected or unexpected. Can be hidden and less tangible – requires conversations, exploration.

Think: 'stats' and 'stories'

Message from our participants

Feedback on Babel Night Performance:

"It was so refreshing to see a group of young men take to the stage together and share"

"It was so radical to see so many men talking about their feelings and experiences"

"I've never experienced an event where the participants lead and curate with such bravery"

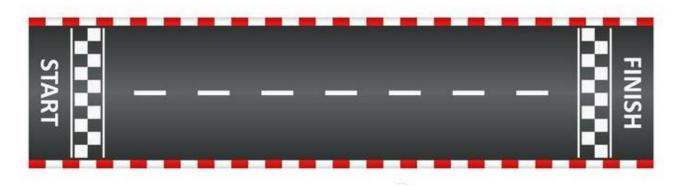

"A refreshing and joyous evening"

"We did a lot of different movements and talking exercises throughout the programme. One of the most memorable for me was in the first week. We had to say, 'I am a man because...'. It was very open and beautiful from the get-go. People weren't just putting on their armour and saying what you would expect them to say on the first day. We were being very vulnerable with each other about what it meant to be a man in today's society. We did an eye contact exercise beforehand where you are just being with the other person in silence. And we did another activity during the programme called 'I'm falling, I'm gliding' where we had to trust each other enough to lift one another up. Through those exercises, we got to know each other and built a strong bond.

> Everyone felt comfortable and safe" Jack, Project Participant, 2022.

The best day out for kids in London? Young Londoners tell all!

8.2K views 8 years ago

We worked with 60 families at The Framed Film Festival at Barbican for two days of fun and filmmaking in the foyer of the Beech Street Cinema. We wanted to find out what young Londoners thought of the capital and asked participants their favourite places in London. Children of all ages got involved, not only in front of the camera but with the filming too. For many it was the first time taking part in a film studio set up and one they won't forget. Show more

MEET WAF'S YOUNG REVIEWERS

28th June 2021

Meet the WAF Young Reviewers - a cohort of brilliant young people from Wandsworth aged 14-19 who will be sharing their experiences of #WAF2021.

As part of a pilot project to develop arts writing skills and engage young people with WAF, the Young Reviewers attended an online workshop session to find out about this year's festival and explore how to write their own reviews with actor, writer and critic, Kalungi Ssebandeke, before choosing which WAF events they'd like to attend and review.

Look out for their reviews here on our website and on social media...

#WAFYoungReviewers2021

Hello! I'm Pen and I'm 15.1 like music and particularly beatboxing, but also any sort of performance where I can see the passion the performer has for their artform

I'm so excited to be writing reviews for the Wandsworth Arts Fringe, and if you want to see more of me then you can watch me and some of my peers in the Wandsworth Music 'Live from the WMA' concert on Wednesday 30 June.

Hi! My name is Danu Webb and I'm 18 years old.

I've just finished my A-levels and now enjoying my free time this summer.

I have a passion for music and writing; writing about music is what I'm here to do. I also play with my band, Banned From Sainsburys, based in Wandsworth.

EXAMPLE THEORY OF CHANGE

STATEMENT(S)

- · Youth offenders lack opportunities to engage with drama as a means to improve their soft skills
- · Absence of theatre provision in the local area

MISSION

· Improve life chances of young people through theatre

		OUTCOMES
Activities	Outputs	Short term	Medium term	Long term
Drama workshops aimed at young people that have been through the justice system     Mentoring programme – beneficiaries of the above programme go into schools to engage younger people at the risk of exclusion in drama	1 workshop per week     End of term production     Beneficiary self-evaluation     1 mentoring session per week	Greater sense of routine for beneficiaries     Fewer exclusions amongst participants	Improved levels of self-confidence     Development of empathy related behaviours	Re-engagement with formal education provision or employment

Planning your evaluation activity

Priority Outcome(s)	Indicator(s)	Methods of evaluation:	Practicalities	Targets / Goals
	What will we actually see / hear about as we move towards and achieve this outcome?  What would 'indicate' this change has happened or	information will we collect about this indicator to tell me if this change is happening or has happened?	Who will collect the information and data?	What does success look like?
			When? How? How often?  How will we ensure this information and data is collected ethically?	What is realistic? What would be a stretch?
IS f	is happening?	What methods will we use to collect this information and data?

Evaluation - Collecting the Stats and the Stories...

What will we do at the start of our project/event?

What will we do during our project/event?

What will we do at the end of our project/event?

Ingredients of good evaluation...

- ✓ Plan your evaluation collaboratively to measure what matters
  - ✓ What questions/themes/topics matter to us?
  - ✓ What will we do at the start, during your project/event, and at the end?
- ✓ Involve people in the design and delivery of evaluation
- ✓ Use a mixture of approaches if you can
- ✓ Conduct research ethically:
  - ✓ be transparent about the purpose and use,
  - ✓ let people know they don't have to take part or answer questions and can withdraw at anytime
  - ✓ let people know how their data will be collected and used
  - ✓ collect information and data anonymously as far as possible
  - ✓ think about participants wellbeing and how you will safeguard them against harm.
- ✓ Include a range of voices and perspectives
- ✓ Document the real-world creative outputs (film, photography, events, artwork, commissions)
- ✓ Use the artforms and methods you are working with already
- ✓ Keep it proportionate to your project / budget / resources

Ethics

• Transparency: Inform people about the purpose and use of the research, who it is being carried out by, and who to contact for more detail.

Data protection:

- Inform people about how their information and data will be collected and used, for what purpose, how it will be stored/process, how long it will be held for.
- Inform people about their data rights to access, rectify or erase their comments at any time, and who they should contact if they want to do that.
- Confidentiality: Collect information and data anonymously as far as possible and let people know when that isn't possible or when they might be identified
- Voluntary participation and consent:
  - Let people know that there is no obligation to take part, that they don't have to answer any of the questions.
  - Parental consent is required for children under 16
- Wellbeing and preventing harm: plan for the wellbeing of research/evaluation participants. Put things in place to support people with specific needs (E.g. interpretation/assistance)
